

Alessandro Colombo is a Professor of International Relations at the University of Milan and Head of ISPI's Transatlantic Relations Programme.

He is the author of various essays on the conceptual aspects of international relations and on the specifics of regional security problems in Europe. His main books are: 'La guerra ineguale. Pace e violenza nel tramonto della società internazionale' (Il Mulino 2006), 'La disunità del mondo. Dopo il secolo globale' (Feltrinelli 2010), 'Tempi decisivi. Natura e retorica delle crisi internazionali' (Feltrinelli 2014).