

<https://conflictantiquities.wordpress.com/>

I am a cultural property criminologist, with experience of interdisciplinary fieldwork in Europe and Asia and work with UNESCO and civil society organisations as well as universities and research institutes, including participative and collaborative teaching and training. I seek to extend research and research methods, and to develop teaching and training, on illicit trafficking of cultural objects, political violence towards cultural property and heritage politics in zones of conflict and crisis, particularly in Turkey and Ukraine.
